

Individual Reflection

Jonathan Örgård

2019-10-06

This week I have sadly been sick for over half the sprint so I did not get as much done as I would have liked. I contributed to the team's delivery's this week by sitting down with Alexander and merging our code that we had developed the last sprint. I also helped Alexander develop Västtrafik API calls. I have also started work on matching Västtrafik stops with their stop ID and finding the closest Västtrafik stop using a given address (using API calls).